Rome, October 12th, 2020

Excellency,

on behalf of the Board of Directors and of all the members of the Union of Honorary Consuls in Italy (UCOI) and of the Union of Italian Honorary Consuls in the World (UCOIM) I warmly congratulate the World Food Programme (WFP) on the prestigious honor of receiving this year's Nobel Peace Prize.

It is a deserved recognition of the WFP's commitment and dedication in the fight against hunger in the world and to improve the food situation of millions of people on the brink of starvation due to the impacts of the COVID-19 pandemic.

The Nobel Peace Prize will hopefully draw more global attention to the need to put an end to any crisis situation and conflict and to ensure access to nutritious food for the world's most vulnerable populations.

Please accept, Excellency, the expression of my highest esteem

Avv. Elio Pacifico
Honorary Consul of Sierra Leone
Secretary General UCOI – UCOIM
